Give your name, phone, email, and commitment to attend all sessions.

Soup, meat, rice, bread, salad, fruit, coffee, and tea are provided each day.

The workshop is free; optional donations are welcome to help with food and supplies.

A group learning environment, not therapy or treatment; participants asked to be sober & stable.

Following the civil rights movement this workshop was developed to experience a just, nonviolent community as a foundation for what it meant to work for a just, nonviolent society.
